

NSPI Accredited Specialist Pool Coping and Tiles

COURSE INFORMATION 2009

About NSPI training

NSPI provides training to the swimming pool and spa industry that has been designed in consultation with a variety of key stakeholders including industry experts, trade associations and government regulators.

About Pool Coping and Tiles

In undertaking this course the trainee develops the knowledge, skills, techniques and attitudes necessary to carry out swimming pool and spa coping and tiling. This course develops within the trainee the attitudes, knowledge, skills and techniques necessary to carry out tiling and coping installation tasks and processes, in a safe and efficient manner and to a standard of quality and finish described in the units of competency that make up the course.

Correspondence delivery

NSPI courses are delivered via correspondence so trainees can complete their course in their own time at their own pace, anywhere.

Who can enrol?

You must be currently working in the industry and have access to an on-the-job supervisor/mentor for each unit being assessed by NSPI.

Information regarding coach/mentor's roll

The roll of the coach/mentor is essentially to be a resource or guide for the trainee. They must be able to answer questions the trainee may have regarding pool tiling and coping applications according to regulatory requirements and be able to guide the trainee towards industry best practice by sharing their knowledge and skills in the appropriate areas as the trainee works through the assessment process.

Prerequisites

NSPI courses require functional literacy and numeracy skills because they are delivered and assessed via correspondence. Workplace Health and Safety legislation requires all persons carrying out construction and maintenance work to undertake the appropriate mandatory course in General Safety Induction (Construction Industry). Evidence of completion of this course must be provided.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

The NSPI RPL process recognises your relevant experience and training to confirm that you have the skills and knowledge required to achieve competence in the units required for this course. You will need approximately two years experience in the industry to be able to provide enough evidence for full RPL.

Once you have enrolled in the course, NSPI will send you a Trainee Checklist, which you fill out and send back with as much supporting evidence as you can of your experience in the units listed in it. It may include photographs of you carrying out pool tiling and coping processes, industry memberships, references, working documents, industry achievements and records of previous studies.

The evidence you provide must be:

- Authentic (your own work)
- Valid (covers the elements to be assessed)
- Reliable (legally and ethically gathered)
- Current (gathered recently or in the recent past) and
- Sufficient (of appropriate quality and quantity).

When NSPI receives your completed Checklist, an NSPI Assessor matches your evidence to the prescribed skill levels required for the selected course. At this point your assessor will contact you to request a written or oral interview or request further documentation.

Gap Training

NSPI will recommend gap training for any unit in which you are assessed as "Not Yet Competent". If you elect to proceed with the gap training, the materials sent to you are designed by NSPI specifically for distance learning and contain a trainee guide and written assessment. Once you have read the trainee guide and feel that you have an understanding of the information, do the assessment and send it back to NSPI for assessment.

Outcomes

On successful completion of all requirements, you are awarded "NSPI Accredited Specialist" status and issued with a skill set statement outlining the units in which you are "Competent". A badge of recognition and other promotional materials are also provided. NSPI publishes a list of NSPI Accredited Specialists on its website confirming their status to potential employers and prospective clients.

Renewal Period

NSPI Accredited Specialists are required to renew their accreditation every four years to ensure they stay up-to-date with current legislation, regulations and practices.

Refund Policy

NSPI will make a full refund of all fees paid should a course be discontinued. Should the learner desire to take an alternative course with NSPI, fees will be fully transferable to that course. In the event of a course for which the learner was enrolled being unavailable or no acceptable alternative course is available, fees are fully refundable.

Should a learner cancel an enrolment with NSPI, the following conditions will apply regarding a refund of fees:

- The enrolment and skills assessment fees are non-refundable, except under extenuating circumstances*

- No refunds or transfers will be given for cancellations or discontinuations after exclusion for unsatisfactory behaviour, except where extenuating circumstances prevail*
- All requests for cancellation or refunds must be made in writing and be accompanied with supporting documentation where necessary
- Normal processing time for a refund request is up to four weeks
- Confidentiality of learner information will be ensured
- Refunds will be paid within one (1) week of the claim being agreed

* Extenuating circumstances: Should a learner have to discontinue a course for legitimate reasons, such as sickness, exceptional family circumstances, a pro-rata refund may be given less a 10% administration fee.

NSPI recognises that there will be instances where people who have enrolled in training need to either cancel that enrolment or transfer to another training program. There may also be instances where employers of learners may elect to substitute another person in lieu of the original enrolment.

NSPI considers each instance of training cancellation, transfer or substitution on its merits; however NSPI has specific policy guidelines to cover these. Cancellations will be accepted only as per NSPI refund policy.
